

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT SOLAR

REBATES

Generous rebates are still available for customers who install solar modules on their home or business. They reduce every year on 1st January until 2030, so the sooner you install them the better.

WHAT SIZE SYSTEM DO I NEED

We generally discuss your energy usage and patterns along with any future considerations, such as batteries to determine what would be the best size for your home or business. There are several questions we ask, such as are you a night time or a daytime energy user, are your patterns likely to change, will you add more appliances in the future. All this information helps us work out what size system suits your needs now and into the future.

SO WHY WAIT YOU COULD START SAVING MONEY TODAY

PAYBACK TIME

Most domestic systems usually have a 3-5-year payback, for commercial systems it may be less. Ask us to demonstrate your payback period as we have a formulated program to demonstrate just how much energy your solar system will produce.

COST

There has never been a better time to install solar power than now. The cost to do so has dropped dramatically over the last 5 years, so stop waiting and enjoy lower energy bills today.

“I’LL PUT SOLAR IN WHEN BATTERIES GET CHEAPER”

We do hear this a lot, however you are better to install solar now and start saving money immediately. By the time batteries are cheaper the solar system would have paid for itself.

Most solar inverters are already capable of having a battery system added to them, this future proofs your investment. You do not need to buy a “Hybrid inverter” if you are considering a Tesla or Sonnen battery, this is due to them being AC coupled.

There is information in the lithium industry to suggest batteries may not come down anytime soon. This is due to the world’s largest consumer of lithium batteries, the automotive industry, as demand increases globally for Electric vehicles. If demand is high then perhaps the cost of batteries will not reduce significantly any time soon.
